

Unique geographical features and tiger populations

TIGER RESERVES AND LANDSCAPES

Five tiger occupied landscape complexes

Shivalik and Gangetic Plains Landscape

extends across the states of Uttarakhand, Uttar Pradesh and Bihar.

Central India and eastern Ghats Landscape

extends across the states of Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Maharashtra, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, and Odisha.

North Eastern Hills and Brahmaputra Flood Plains Landscape extends across parts of Northern West Bengal, Assam, Arunachal Pradesh, Mizoram, Nagaland.

Sundarban Landscape

comprises of the mangrove forests of southern part of West Bengal and extends into Bangladesh.

Western Ghats Landscape

extends across the states of Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Goa, and Kerala.